FASHION'S HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH PLATTE.

Julius Pizer returned last week from New York where he spent three weeks buying a stock for The Leader. "Without question of doubt," said Mr. Pizer, "I have bought the finest line of merchandise ever seen in this city, or will be seen in any city in the United States. Our ladies' ready-to-wear line consisting of ladies' and misses' suits, ladies' and misses' coats, dresses and costumes and dress skirts, of which no two are alike in style, are certain to be appreciated by the ladies who make North Platte their trading center. The cash purchasing power (The Leader always pays cash) enabled me to buy goods at from twenty-five to thirty-three per cent cheaper than the merchants who buy on long time, and the discount thus obtained on the cash purchases will be given the patrons of The Leader; in other words you can save twenty-five to thirty-three per cent by making your purchases at The Leader.

"In our dry goods department the latest weaves in wool, silks, washable and sheer fabrics will be found. "New goods are arriving daily and our spring opening will be announced in a short time. Even this early we are selling many suits, dresses and coats, which can be taken as evidence that our selection and prices are meeting with favor with the ladies.

"We have the best alteration seamstress in the city and all alterations, whenever necessary, are made free of charge.

"Our ladies' furnishing goods department consisting of underwear, hosiery and gloves are of the celebrated Kayser make, which every lady knows are the best in the world and do not cost more than the ordinary makes.

"Fancy articles such as ribbons, neckwear, ruchings, dust caps, automobile caps, night caps and hand bags, of a great variety is included in our big stock.

"Embroideries, lace, trimmings, and flouncings of the latest styles for graduating gowns and other uses are found in our store in almost endless profusion.

"In fact, anything you are looking for in ladies' wearing apparel will be found at The Leader, and you are guaranteed that the stock throughout is of the newest creations, of the best manufacture and that the prices are always lower than elsewhere.

"Ladies should not forget that The Leader is the real headquarters for shirt waists from one dollar up. Hundreds of them were sold last month, and we are confident that from now on our sales of waists will run into the hundreds each month.

"I have closed a contract with the largest shirt waist manufacturer in this country to furnish The Leader every month with a shipment of waists to sell at one dollar and two dollars each and ladies may therefore look for new arrivals every month. This line of waists is only found in the largest stores in the largest cities of the country.

"The Leader is here for business. Our stock, prices and styles must get it. The Leader has been doing business successfully in North Platte for twenty-three years, everybody in Lincoln county knows our responsible standing, and if goods purchased are not satisfactory we are always willing to make 'good'."

Searched for Stolen Goods.

Complaint was filed Saturday in the county court against George Allen, charging him with stealing some goods from W. N. Rose of this city and Sheriff Salsbury left following him north Saturday. He overtook the man in his wagon near Ringgold and served the warrant on him but did not bring him back as he had three sick children.

Mr. Rose complains that Allen had stolen several articles from him aggregating in value of about twenty-five dollars. Among the articles were an iron bed with springs and mattress, some blankets and quilts and some cooking utensils. The sheriff searched the wagon and found goods answering the descriptions given him and the man will appear before the county court soon and answer to the charge.

G. D. Goldsmith, residing eight miles southwest of the city, returned Saturday from Clarks, Neb., where he visited for a few days with his son-in-law, Lee Mustard and family. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY WILL MEET THIS WEEK.

A meeting of the Lincoln county agricultural society is planned for this week at which time arrangements for the 1915 county fair will be consummated and the dates will probably be set.

Secretary Sebastian announces that at this meeting the premium list will be gone over and some changes made. Committees who have had the revision of the list in hand will report and recommend certain changes in it. There will also be considerable other business transacted.

The meeting will probably be held Thursday afternoon, March 4th. The revision of the premium list will be made to make it more general and to add certain premiums on exhibits that are not classified. While the premium list last year was highly commendable and took in nearly all the exhibits entered yet in some places it was not satisfactory to the officers of the society.

The new premium list will probably cut off some of the premiums given last year for certain things and take in some of the more important exhibits that might be entered. A miscellaneous list of premiums will also be added to take in entries that cannot be classified. This will make it much more satisfactory to both the officers of the association and to the exhibitors.

At a session of the Nebraska Federation of Retailers the other day a member, George W. Darner, charged the government with being a party to the plan to put the retail dealers of the country out of business. He charged specifically that a deficit of fifty million dollars annually is being created in pursuing the "farm to table" plan, which is intended to eliminate the small country merchant. He urged particularly that retail dealers buy in large lots, in accordance with the co-operative scheme, and save on freights and first cost, which is the plan that a body of grocers of the North Platte valley at Bridgeport are pursuing. The retail merchant is confronted with many new problems in business and he cannot be too alert or energetic if he would solve them to his own satisfaction and that of the consuming portion of the public.—Kearney Hub.
